WEAK PITCHING LOSES CONTEST.

Ambler Team Otherwise Plays Good Game.

Ward Is Hit Hard, and Only for Wonderful Fielding the Score Would Have Been Much Larger—Ritchie Pitches Last Inning.

Weakness in the box again hurt Ambler's chances to win a ball game last Saturday. A highly recommended pitcher by the name of Ward was sent here to do our pitching, but he, like those who have tried heretofore, failed at a time when he was most needed. The score was Conshohocken 5, Ambler 2. There is no fault to be found with the rest of the team. With the addition of Johnson and Scanlon at short and third the infield is all that can be desired. In the outfield Sharkey and Cavis never played better ball than now. Robinson needs nothing to be said about him, as every one knows his ability to take care of center field. Never before have the Ambler fans been treated to a finer exhibition of second base playing than Captain McCarraher is showing at the present time. In the seven games played by him with local club he has had but one error, and in the last three games he has accepted 27 chances without an error. In last Saturday's contest he handled the business end of two double plays, and in the second inning his wonderful stop of Livingston's hard drive between first and second saved at least one run. As stated, but for the splendid fielding back of him Ward would have had a much larger score to content with.

Here is how the visitors scored their runs: The first tally came over in the second period; Love singled, and after Drennan was retired by Scanlon he was advanced to second by Livingston, Hasselbacker then lifted one into left field for a single, scoring Love. In the sixth Ward walked Ellis. Ryan singled, and each runner moved up a base on Love's sacrifice, McCarritck, batting for Drennan, also singled scoring Ellis. A fast double play stopped further scoring. In the next inning the visitors went after Ward with a vengance, and before the side was retired two runs were scored. Scanlon, McCarraher and Sharkey certainly saved Ward in this session. In the beginning Sharkey had to stand with his back to the fence to get Hesselbacker's drive. Jones and Silverman, the latter formerly played with Ambler, singled, and Carson followed with a three-base blow. It was a hard drive, but in justice it must be said that it would have been good for only one base had the ball not struck something and bounded away from Sharkey. Two runs came in on this hit. Ryan also singled, but nothing came of it, as McCarraher stepped in and grabbed Love's drive, retiring the side. Previous to this Scanlon made a wonderful play in cutting down Carson at the plate on Ellis' hit to third. Two men were out in the eighth round when George Hesslebacker again stepped into one of Ward's fast ones and when the ball was returned hew as resting on second from where he scored on Jones' single. Ritchie, a local boy pitched the last inning for Ambler, and he had facing him three of the best hitters on the irontown team. They were: Carson, Ellis and Ryan, but all three went out in order.

Ambler's first run was scored in the second frame. After Martin flew out to Silverman, Scanlon hit for two bases. He advanced to third on Johnson's hit and while the latter was being retired at second on Robinson's drive to Ellis he scored. Scanlon also scored our second run, which came over in the fourth inning. He opened the period with a single, and on Ward's two-base hit.

Next Saturday Ambler will play at Souderton. Ritchie is on the card to pitch, and a large delegation of rooters of the Boosters club will go up to see the local boy pitch his first Montgomery County league game. Following is the score:

Who's Who and What's What in the Two Townships

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Brockie and Mr. and Mrs. George Emlen Starr left Philadelphia, Friday for Bay Head, where they were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pratt McKean, of "Pine Run Farm," Penllyn, at their cottage.

Albert C. Livezey, of Lower Gwynedd, last week sold to an antique dealer of Trenton, N. J., an heirloom that has been in the family near 250 years. It was a family safe brought to America from England by John C. Cadwalader, whose wife was a daughter of a Prince of Wales, "Cadwallen of Cadwallen" He settled in what is now Abington township. His farm was on the road leading from Abington Friends' Meeting house to Fox Chase, where he died 1724. His son Isaac succeeded him. He, in turn succeeded by his son Abraham, whose second wife was Martha Deaves, sister to Abraham Deaves, who lived on the westerly side of the great road leading from Phila. to Reading at the top of the hill at Mount Airy, Germantown. During the great plague in Philadelphia "when grass grew high and green in High street" the said Abraham Cadwalader and his brother went to Philadelphia on business. While walking north on Second street, near Callowhill, a woman threw open the shutters of a window and called for the dead cart which was provided by the city to remove the dead. A current of infected air poured over their heads from the house. He went home, settled up his affairs, made his will and died the next day. He had two children by his second marriage, Martha, aged 13, who was born Nov. 14, 1784, and one son Joel. Upon his widow's death his personal belongings passed to Martha, who married William H. Ball, of Richland, Bucks county, Pa. Martha Cadwalader Ball was the great-grandmother of Albert C. Livezey from whom he heired the old still, through his mother, Mary E. Conard. The still was made of some soft metal, like pewter or tin, bent over easily, and was much cracked. It has not been in working order for 45 years. His uncle, John Conard, says that he helped his grandmother, Martha Cadwalader Ball, to distill peppermint several times over 50 years ago, and never knew of anything but peppermint and rose leave to be distilled in it.

Interesting Community Exercises at Plymouth Centre.

Cold Point P. O. S. of A., Honors Cold Point Grange—Addresses by Judge Miller, Mrs. Rodgers, Theodore Weidemann, Mr. Sailor and Others.

A large silk American flag was unfurled Saturday afternoon at the new Plymouth Center hall, formerly and for a century known as he "Hickorytown Inn." The flag was the gift of Cold Point Camp, P. O. S. of A. The pole was presented by Otto Weidemann.

Marshall E. Botzford, master of the grange, presided over the ceremonies. The flag pole presentation speech was made by Otto Weidemann, Judge John Faber Miller was the speaker of the afternoon. Brief addresses were also made by Theodore Weidemann, head of the committee which planned the affair and the secretary of the national grange.

The new flag was drawn up the pole by the two oldest members of the grange, Wm. B. Richards and James K. Thompson. A. T. Wernle presented the flag on behalf of the P. O. S. of A., and Mr. Botsford accepted both flag and pole on behalf of the gange.

Judge Miller, who is a member of the grange and a resident of Plymouth township, took occasion to give a happy review of the interesting history of the village of Hickorytown, which title that of Plymouth Centre now supplants.

Mrs. Rogers, state cereus, of Delaware county, filled her address with patriotic references. Mr. Sailor, of Tapper, also a granger, delivered an interesting address. Theodore Weideman, on of the active members of Cold Point grange, made a few remarks. Miss Ida Myers recited, "The Flag," and the national anthems wer sung with enthusiasm, led by the Norristown High School orchestra.

Fully 150 persons partook of a well prepared and excellently served supper, which was followed by a dance. feramrirf ctnffs.saeral tfafiupmelsep

The event was conducted under auspices of Cold Point grange, which held its annual outing in connection with the patriotic community meeting. Residents of Whitpain, Whitemarsh, Springfield and other townships were in attendance. This is the new home of the Cold Point grange.

The formal dedication of the community hall will be deferred until Labor day owing to the delay in fully equipping the structure. Following the patriotic ceremonies there was a general inspection of the building and grounds, which will fill a long-felt want in the community. The second floor is a large auditorium in which community functions may be held. The women of the grange served a luncheon to the guests.

GREETING TO THE CONARDS.

Address of the President at the Family Reunion.

1921 Gathering Held June 18 at Horsham—Duty to Add Sunshine—Memories of Old Quarterly Meetings.

My dear friends, it affords me great pleasure to greet you and welcome you to this our 18 annual reunion of the descendants of John Conard, of Whitpain, and Sarah Child, his wife. I am gratified to greet so many of you here today on this bright, sunshiny day, June 18th, 1921.

I am more than gratified to learn that your meeting, held here a year ago, was so satisfactory and so much enjoyed by all. As I extend both hands in greting to the guests today I am very forcibly reminded of those who formerly attended our annual meeting, whose smile of salutation and words of welcome must hence forth remain only a memory, and as I look upon you I am fully aware of how many. Oh how many, vacant seats are in our midst. I was not permitted to attend the meeting last year owing to a severe illness that has now lasted over a year. Several times I thought the time had surely come for me to go out with the tide, and across the bar with the flow of the evening tide. But not yet I believe it to be our duty to endeavor to bring a little more sunshine into the hearts of our members by visiting among each other more than we have been doing in years past. There is a pecular thing about that sunshine the more we are able to bring to others the more we have for ourselves. If there are any present to whom I have not spoken, I hope they will come forward and make themselves known for I have no doubt that I knew fathers or grandfathers quite well. We are meeting today near the old Horsham Meeting house, where so often we came to Quarterly meeting in our youthful days. Often no doubt we were more exercised as to where we were going to dinner afterward than we were with the meeting. From Horsham we mostly went to dinner to Uncle Charley's, at the mill, or to Uncle Peter's, at the farm on the Horsham road. I remember being at Horsham Quarterly meeting one time when nine of the 12 children of John Conard, of Whitpain, were present. Another quarterly meeting at Horsham the venerable Lucretia Mott and her husband were present. The only time I ever saw or heard the great antislavery advocate speak that was before Lincoln issued his proclamation of freedom of the slaves. Another time when I was at Horsham Meeting house I crossed the roadway to those hallowed acres just the other side and I stood by the last resting place of Uncle Charlie and his faithful comrade, Aunt Lydia, by his side where they lay asleeping 'neath the close croped grass with their daughters all around them. The bright sunshine of an early June day was tempered by a summer breeze. My heart was filled with the peace and quiet that was all around them. Thanking you again for your presence and attention, I commend to the care of Him who doeth all things well, and may his peace go with you all.

The County Taxes.

The county Treasurer's office has been buzing merrily since the first of the month, collecting taxes now due. Extra clerical help has been handling the queries that come in by mail, but many of these are of such an indefinite nature that County Treasurer Bardman has asked the press to advise the information necessary so that their tax bills can be promptly forwarded.

"Especially in the boroughs we have trouble," said Mr. Bardman. "A property owner writes in for his bill, and gives only his street address without designating the ward in which the property is located. Then we must scout around and find someone well enough acquainted with the borough to tell us the ward, as all properties are listed by wards.

"Occasionally a man wants to pay taxes on property in more than one ward, but simply asks of 'John Jones' bill.' It is impossible to comply, in full, or we might find part of his property. The rest of his taxes may be overlooked, become delinquent, and then there is a strong kick."

The fair sex is having its first experience in paying tax for being citizens of the great commonwealth. But not without a struggle do they cough up. They ask enough question to give the receiving clerks a headache, and wont leave until they have found out what this-and-that means. The chief mytery is the occupation tax, and one woman declared that "if the county had the right kind of tax receipts, which explained everything clearly, she wouldn't have to ask so many questions."

Another told County Clerk Stout, who happened to run into her barrage, that she had paid 20 cents last year to vote and wanted to know if it was necessary to do that every year. Another insisted that she hadn't voted last year, and didn't intend to vote this or any year, so she considered herself free from the poll tax.

Many women have taken out petitions to run for office, especially for school director.

Much the same situations are faced by Borough Treasurer Hiltner and his staff at City Hall. The fair ones, especially those who did not favor the voting privilege for women are in anything but a happy frame of mind when advised of the additional tax levied upon them.

Owes $60 to Wife.

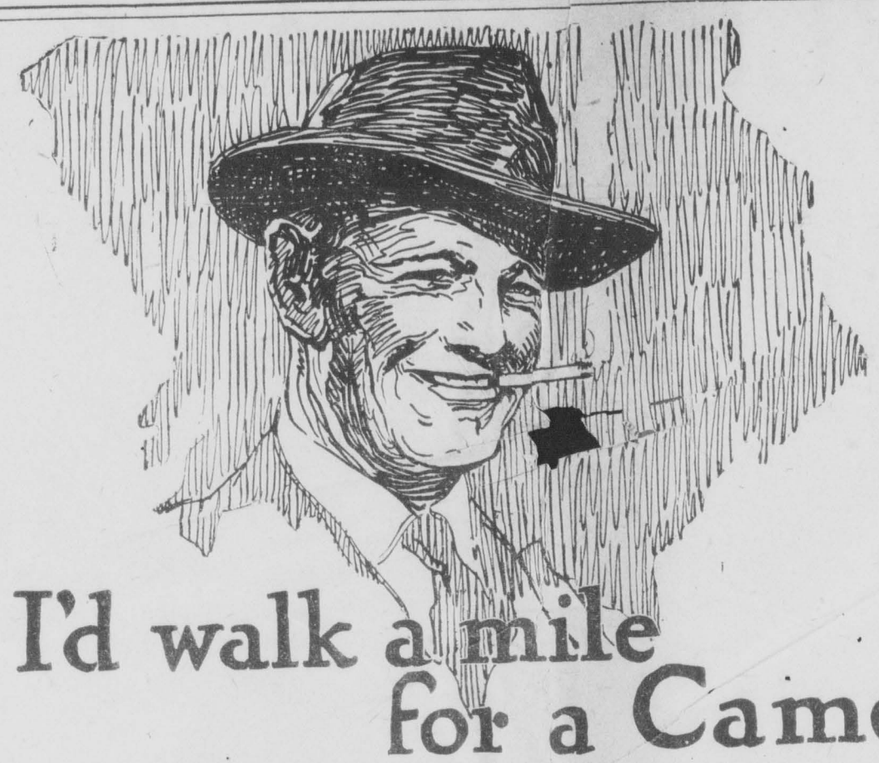
Robert Bundy, a North Glenside colored youth, was before the county court on an attachment issued by his wife, Clara, for her support. Bundy was ordered by court in 1918 to pay his wife $5 for the support of herself and two children. The wife declares that he paid the amount for two months and then stopped.

The husabnd testified that he was in the army for four months and that she was paid $47 a month by the government. She said the government money lasted only two months.

Judge Swartz decided that Bundy was in contempt in the sum of $60 and ordered him back to jail until the amount is paid.

Strol Club Baseball.

The Strol Club have organized a fast base ball team which will be uniformed this week. They have secured players from U. of P., Dresher, Springhouse, Manufacturers League of Phila. and the old North Wales team. They would like to hear from managers of teams having their own diamonds. Address all mail to Business Manager Strol Club, North Wales, Penna.



I'd walk a mile for a Camel

The pleasure is worth it. There's no substitute for Camel quality and that mild, fragrant Camel blend.

The fellow who smokes Camels, wants Camels. That's because Camels have a smoothness, a fragrance and a mildness you can't get in another cigarette.

Don't let anyone tell you that any other cigarette at any price is so good as Camels.

Let your own taste be the judge. Try Camels for yourself. A few smooth, refreshing puffs and you'd walk a mile for a Camel, too.

THE SPARROW IS LEAVING.

Writer Thinks the Bird Is Deserting Towns.

Interesting Facts Concerning the Depredations of the Sparrow—First Work Years Ago Was to Destroy The Silk Industry.

Robbins are once again hopping over the lawns in the suburban districts; the advance guard of the crow black birds, their natural and inveterate enemies, have reappeared, though not as yet in sufficient force to give battle, and those who watch these things are again pondering the question, "What has become of the English sparrows?"

Census figures are not available, but to even the most casual observers it is plain that they are fast disappearing from city and country alike, while the native birds are coming into their own again in corresponding degree.

Imported originally during the middle years of the last century to destroy worms which by eating the leaves and building their cobwebby nests, threatened the existence of the finest shade trees, the little Britishers went to their task with such avidity that it was practically completed within a decade.

It soon became evident that the whole United States had too much of a good thing, as, for instance, when Australia imported rabbit to combat the indigenous Kangaroo, and almost destroyed the wool and mutton industries—perhaps the first thing a nation ever complained of an overplus of meat—or as when his county brought in water Hyacinths from Honduras and blocked navigation in southern inland waters, or when the island of Jamaica imported mongooses from India to perform St. Patrick's task. They have no snakes there any more, they never had any deadly ones, but poultry raising is no longer possible, and even little children are not safe from the blood thirsty little weasles.

About the first thing the sparrows did to raise a question as to their welcome was to destroy the silk-growing industry which had a start in the Hudson River Valley and other parts of the country, for they ate the silkworms as fast as the y hatched on the mulberry trees, imported and nutured at great expense, and then started their warfare on the native birds as fiercely as ever did the white human settlers on the red original owners of the soil, and with results no less marked as a generation went by. Any bird smaller than a crow became a rarity.

No robins have so increased that they seriously menace all small fruit yields and growers are discussing demands for repeal of the laws protecting them, and, besides, robins are said to be delicious when baked in pies.

Cats are not sufficient to account for the passing of the sparrows, for ever since the food shortage of the war and the abolition of the saloon with its free lunches more and more cats have succomed in the struggle to get enough to eat; and with the summer for custom, they're getting scarce, too, in many parts of the city, being almost as much of a rarity as the Harlem goat.

Reed birds nd rice birds do not figure on the menus of exclusive restaurants frequantly enough to account for it, either. Bounties for sparrow scalps have been withdrawn in many counties and the most plausible theory on the disappearance of little birds, after all, may lie in the success of the varied means of warfare of their human foes.

This warfare ranged all the way from the bean-shooter and airgun of the small boy to more scientific methods of exterminations, such, for instance ,as was employed by dealers in now obsolete beverages in Western cities which were based upon the limitless pugnacity of the prey. First they set traps of the catch-em-alive type for the sparrows and forthwith scalped all hens and weaklings, but the husky young males they kept caged until the day set for a grand battle ,which was always some time when there was a light snow on the ground. All the sparrows in the neighborhood would be taught to congregate at a certain place by a daiy scattering of food, but on the day of the slaughter they would be fed with wheat steeped in cheap whiskey.

Soon all were fighting drunk. Then the caged champions, each with his feathers closely trimmed to prevent any victim getting a beak hold and each armed with tiny but deadly spurs fashioned from cambric needles, were turned loos! on the brawling rabble, each one cold and sober and spoiling for a fight And the promoters cashed in their sparrows scalps by stricken bushel measures.

Less Pay for 600 Trolleymen.

Fire at Andorra Nurseries.

A large barn at County Commissioner Harper's Andorra Nurseries, situated on Thomas road, near City Line, Chestnut Hill, was completely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. The entire contents, including a Ford touring car, several wagons, farm implements and a large quantity of packing straw, were consumed.

The quick action of the Barren Hill and Flourtown fire companies, with chemical and standard hose streams, brought from a plug 1000 feet away, prevented the loss of several cars of cord wood piled adjacent to the building.

The origin has not been determined. The loss totals over $5000.

Leaves for Alaska.

Miss Fannie Cleaver, of Conshohocken left for Alaska to take charge of St. Stephen's mission and hospital at Fort Yukon and engage in nursing. She has left Seattle for Fort Yukon. The hospital of which she will be in charge is the only one for hundreds of miles is greatly needed.

She has been a resident of Conshohocken all her life and is a graduate of the local high school. She is a member of Calvary Episcopal congregation. As a token of the good will and good wishes, Rev. J. K. Moorhouse, in the name of the parish, presented her with a purse of money.

License Transferred

The court has granted a transfer of the license for the American House, Pottstown, from Norwood Wagner to John Sacher.

Another Pottstown license was transferred by the court. It was the permit of the Commercial Hotel from Augustus J. Wheeler to Harry J. Wolf.

Swears off in Justice's office.

Frank Dutill, a Conshohocken youth, was a defendant before Magistrate Harry, in Norristown, charged by Mrs. Howard Gilmore, of Spring Mill, with disorderly conduct.

Dutill was a victim of bad booze it was said, arriving in the vicinity of the Gilmore home, at 2 o'clock, Sunday morning, and an annoying the neighborhood with his noise. He reappeared during the hours when people were going to church and repeated the performance, according to testimony, and Mrs. Gilmore had a warrant issued for his arrest.

The defendant told Squire Harry he couldn't remember where he got the liquor, but he then and there swore off. The costs of the case were imposed upon him, and he was discharged.

Daniel Dowlin has a very prolific garden on his lot along Butler avenue opposite the foot of Henrdicks street. His truck looks very well despite the recent dry weather, and he has already commenced to enjoy the yield therefrom. The most wonderful part of the garden is that the plot has been for years an ash and refuse pile, and in the spring Mr. Dowlin was obliged to rake off the tin cans and other refuse before he planted the seed, which was done without the addition of top soil.

William Behringer, one night last week, narrowly escaped serious injury on Morris road just north of Fort Washington, when the front wheel of the car he was driving fell into a hole in the road surface, damaging the axle and breaking the front fender. Joseph Maull, one of the local boys, was successful in the treasure hunt and the five-mile hike, and for his prize has a very useful compass. Most of the boys will return this Saturday.

In connection with recent price movements it is interesting to study, by way of comparison and encouragement, prices for road repair, materials and labor as tendered the county in recent bids, which evidences the downward trend of prices: Labor ,30 cents per hour; double teams, 90 cents per hour; single teams, 50 cents per hour; $18 per day for each roller; 90 cents per hour for each road scraper, and the same rate for street sweepers and road sprinklers; $1.75 per hour for each two-ton truck; $1.90 per hour for 2 1-2 ton truck; $1.20 an hour for each one-ton truck; 55 cents an hour for all foremen. A large attended and interesting meeting of the Erdenheim-Flourtown Civic association was held last Thursday evening in the Flourtown Public school building. A delegation of the Flourtown fire company attended and took up the matter of the use of the fire company's ground for the best interest of the community. Peter Sorensen acted as spokesman for the members of the company and presented their request in an able manner. The members of the Civic Association assured the members that they would be glad to lend their aid to any movement for the good of the company. The affairs of the celebration of Independence day were settled up and about $100 was turned into the treasury. It was also decided to revive the fight against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company for better service between Philadelphia and Chestnut Hill. The arrangement now in force, changing cars at the Bethlehem pike and Germantown avenue, is very unsatisfactory. All organizations in the community should get back of the movement and assist the Civic Association in its efforts to make Erdenheim-Flourtown section a bigger and better place in which to live.

There will be a community excursion next Sunday to Sanatoga park. Those desiring to take in the trip are requested to notify G. Woodbury and Frank McCall, from whom full particulars may be secured. The information is desired by Thursday. The trip will be made in automobiles. Cars will leave Wheel Pump and Flourtown about 8 a. m.

Sunday school at Zion Lutheran church next Sunday morning at 9.30 and, preaching service at 10.45.

About 100 persons attend the picnic given in Bodenstein's grove, Fort Washington, last Saturday for the members and families of the Zion Lutheran Brotherhood. In the game of ball between the married and single men so many runs were made that the score-keeper became weary marking them up and went off to eat ice cream, and the result was that both sides claimed the victory. The next sport engaged in was a tug-of-war, and the Brotherhood gave a good demonstation of its strength for, with 14 men on each side, and, just as they were tugging the hardest the rope broke in the centre. This spill was one of humorous features of the picnic. The committee in charge prepared a splendid supper, gratefully declining any assistance from the ladies. It was a very successful picnic, at which everybody enjoyed themselves.

This ghost was a 1921 model

LAST MONTH, on a bet,
WITH THE boys up home,
I SPENT a night
ALONE IN the old
HAUNTED HOUSE.
AND WHEN I heard
MOANS AND groans,
I SAID "The wind."
AND TRIED to sleep,
I HEARD rappings,
AND SAID "Rats,"
AND ROLLED over,
THEN I heard steps,
AND IN the light
OF A dying moon,
A WHITE spook rose.
I WASN'T scared—much,
BUT DIDN'T feel like
STARTING ANYTHING.
BUT THEN I caught
JUST A faint whiff

OF A familiar,
AND DELICIOUS smell,
WHICH TIPPED me off,
SO I gave the ghost
THE HORSE laugh,
AND SAID "Ed,
YOU FAT guys,
MAKE BUM ghosts,
BUT BEFORE you fade,
LEAVE WITH me one,
OF YOUR cigarettes,
THEY SATISFY."

Four Motor Accidents Result in Suits.

Actions have been brought in the office of the Prothonotary as follows:

By Attorney T. Lane Bean, in behalf of Lydie S. Kennedy of Norristown against James S. Weeden, of East Norriton to recover $2500 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained when she was run down on March 23, 1921, on the Ridge turnpike, in Lower Providence, by defendant's automobile. Plaintiff claims that she was walking along the highway when defendant, operating his machine at a high rate of speed, struck her. Her head was lacerated, her right leg contused, her body cut and bruised and her clothing ruined. The accident, occurred between the Trooper school house and the Trooper road.

By Attorney Walter Shaw, in behalf of Edwad J. Nunan, against Clara H. Miller, of Philadelphia, to recover $500 damages as a result of a collision between the automobiles of the respective parts on the Lancaster road, Lower Merion, July 4, 1920.

Roebuck, of Bridgeport, against Max Horn, of Tower City, Schuylkill county, to recover $1000 damages as the result of a collision of the automobile of the defendant and the horse and delivery wagon of the plaintiff. The outfit was damaged and the driver thrown from his seat and injured.

The accident occurred on Main street, Norristown, 8 a. m., Wednesday, May 25 last.

Aliens go to Europe With Big War Savings.

Eight hundred and forty-three men, women and children brought by automobiles, trolley cars and a special train from Chicago heard a cheer "bon voyage" called by more tha 15000 relatives and friends at Peir 54 Washington avenue, Philadelphia, Friday forenoon, which the Red Star liner Samland sailed for Hamburg, Libau and Danzig.

A concrete illustration of the wave of prosperity, on the crest of which all aliens as well as American citizens, added to their material wealth during the war, was afforded by the spectacle of hundreds of foreign born from industrial northeast Philadelphia, riding to the pier in automobiles of various makes and sizes. Some were shipyard workers, and others had fattened their bankrolls in big manufacturing establishments in the Kensington and Port Richmond sections of this city.

Inquiry among the Samland's passengers, all of whom were booked as third class, elicited the information that they were taking back with them large sums of money in the form of cash and letters of credit to be used for the purchase of farm property and homesteads.

Buy Fall Fertilizers Early.

Owing to the scarcity in transportation equipment the American Railway Association has notified the National Fertilizers Association to make every effort to have their selling agent and customers secure their Fall fertilizers several weeks earlier than usual. It is urged that the loading of fertilizers for Fall use commence not later than July 1. All farmers and selling agents, therefore, should be mindful of the restricted shipping conditions and avoid delay in receiving their fertilizers by making all contracts and sending in orders as soon as possible.

TOWN TOPICS.

Miss Francis M. Acuff, of Harrisburg, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. D. W. Shelly.

L. E. Haines, formerly a resident of Ambler, has moved from Glenolden to Glenside.

"I was admitted to the bar 52 years ago next August." —Neville D. Tyson, Esq., of Norristown.

Mrs. Harold Hoover and infant daughter returned last week from Montgomery hospital, Norristown.

The Ambler Presbyterian Sabbath school picnicked at Chalfont park last Thursday, making the trip in motor trucks.

J. Linden Heacock, architect of Hatboro and Philadelphia, visited Ambler one day last week looking up some proposed building.

Jacob Yost, who is agent for the Alloway Paint Corporation, has secured orders for sufficient paint to cover the roofs of about 100 houses in Doylestown and vicinity.

Last year, the female citizens were enfranchised just before the general election, and were not required to declare themselves for a particular party, although many did so at that time.

The political card of I. T. Haldeman, of Lower Salford, appears in the "Gazette." Mr. Haldeman is a candidate for the office of prothontary, having just completed his term in the state legislature from this district.

The will of Captain Eli D. Edmunds, late of Ambler, disposing of an estate valued at $6300, was admitted to probate at Norristown. It gives the entire estate to testator's two daughters, Lydia E. Hansell and Harriett E. Posey, both of Ambler, who are also named as executrices.

A reliable, dependable, easy running, easy riding, economical in gasoline, oil and assuring long life to tires—such is the car you are looking for. I beg to call your attention to the Buick. Examine it critically, ask a Buick owner and let me demonstrate its many commendable features. —Rudolph Speelhoffer, agent. adv

Registry assessors of the county are sitting this Wednesday to enroll voters for the primary election on Sept. 20. These "sitting days" mean more this year than in the past few years because of the large number of women voters who are required to declare party affiliation if they desire to utilize the voting privilege at the primaries.

Ambler defeated the strong Indiana Professionals in a twilight game last Wednesday evening by thes core of 4 to 3. Those who went to the local grounds saw one of the best games of the season and were well repaid for their trouble. They saw Harry Ritchie, who heretofore was a catcher, go to the hill for Ambler and give one of the nicest exhibitions of a promising young pitcher that has been seen here since the days of the boy's uncle, "Lew" Richie, Richie's speed was blinding and seven of the visitors fanned, most of them hitting at the ball when it was in the catcher's hands. Edwards, who was Richie's battery mate said after the game: "If this is a sample of what this boy can do Ambler surely is fortunate, for in a little while, with proper training, our club will be able to clean up any team in the Montgomery County league." As stated, the game was well played from the start to finish, and only two errors, one on each side, marred the work of the clubs, and both of these misplays were made on hard chances. Johnson, local's new short stop, played well. Some of his stops and throws, especially the one made on Scanlon in the eighth period, were of high order. Captain McCarraher again played a star game, both in the field and at the bat. Sharkey, Cavis, Edwards and Martin also put up a fine game in their respective positions. Foreman who formerly played with Ambler, and Scanlon did the best work in the field. The locals were made to face Chapin, who is one of the best pitchers in the independent ranch today. However, Ambler got to him for nine hits, five of which were bunched in the first and seventh periods, which together with a base on balls and a sacrifice netted four runs. The visitors scored their three runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

Motorcar Cases are Returned to Court.

A crusade against reckless automobile driving at the dangerous turn at Springhouse hotel has been in force for the past few weeks, but until violators have been released upon payment of fines before the Lower Gwynedd Magistrates.

On July 13 two cases were returned to court, when motorists refused to go to a hearing. One of the men arrested at this point is Frank T. Reese ,of the Norris Apartments Norristown, who is charged with "driving past the dangerous crossing at Springhouse at an exceedingly reckless rate of speed and without sounding any signal device."

Reese and another driver, Wm. Cassel, 216 East Bringhurst street, Philadelphia were arrested on May 29, by Constable F. W. Morton, and waived a hearing June 29. They were held by Magistrate W. W. Miller, of North Wales, under $50 bond for court.

It is said that nearly 100 autoists have been brought to task for violations at this point.

Use of Farm Tractors Shows Great Increase.

The shortage of labor on the farms of Pennsylvania during the past year has brought about a greatly increased use of the farm tractor, according to statistics secured by the Bureau of Statistics, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. The figures show that during 1920 the number of tractors on the farms of the State have increased fifty per cent.

In 1919 there were approximately 4,315 tractors on the farms of Pennsylvania. At the present time there are approximately 6,823 tractors in use on the farms. These figures are based on reports from 705 townships in the State.

The reports do not indicate that horses are being generally discarded on the farms, but that the tractors are used as auxiliary power, requiring less manpower to operate than the use of horses.

Blue Mold Rot in Apples.

The peculiar strong musty smell so often encountered in apple cellars is due to the Blue Mold Rot, one of the most destructive rot fungi in stored apples. When this musty smell is present this rot exists somewhere on the bin or boxes and if it is strong it is likely to impart a decidedly unpleasant flavor to the contents of the cellar. This smell also indicates that he funges is forming innumerable spores which will infect and rot other apples. To keep down less from Blue Mold Rot, pick out and destroy the rotten fruits at frequent intervals and keep the cellar cool, clean, well aired and dry. The Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, will gladly answer questions regarding the diseases of plants and give methods of controlling insect pests.

A woman was chosen to a post of prominence in the recent session of criminal court, Norristown, when the members of the grand jury elected Mrs. Charlotte T. Thomas, wife of Dr. J. Quincy Thomas, of Conshohocken, forewoman.

It was the first instance of this honor falling to the lote of the female citizen. With Mrs. Thomas on the jury are two other women—Ruth T. Binckley, housekeeper, of Jenkintown, and Ruth Fish, housekeeper, of Whitemarsh.

Pennsylvania Blazes the Way in Handling Infections Abortion.

The subject of ifections abortion and sterility of cattle has for sevral years been given close attention by the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, and the results obtained are most gratifying and encouraging.

No other diseases affecting cattle causes greater financial loss and gives our breeders and dairyman more concern. There is no known cure for infections abortion, but it can be prevented. Furthermore, fully seventy-five per cent. of sterile cows, if properly treated, will conceive and produce strong, healthy calves.

If the advice recommended by the bureau is followed the disease can be eradicated and the herd maintained on a healthy basis. The bureau will furnish specially trained agents to consult and instruct practicing veterinarians, regarding treatment and preventative measures.

Pennsylvania is the first and only state to render breeders and practicing veterinarians service of this character. With this assistance available there is little excuse for the presence of infectious abortion in many of the herds where it now exists, or for so many sterile cows in the State.

Further information about this important subject may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg.

Henry W. Watson, of the Bucks-Montgomery district, introduced a bill in congress to amend the act authorizing the Secretary of War to loan rifles and other military equipment to American Legion posts in order to limit the number of rifles to ten and the bond for the equipment to $100.

County S. S. Association.

The Montgomery County Sabbath School association continues to lay stress on the importance of complete district organization. In a recent letter sent out from the county president's office, there is emphasized this need for every district with a complete set of officers.

The summer slump, so-called, in many Sunday schools is being met this year by means of Daily Vacation Bible Schools and the use of the stereoptican. Slides for the use of Sunday schools of the county may be secured from the President, Rev. Walter A. Ritter, Wyncote, Pa., only a slight rental being charged.

The County Association officers are always ready to help any school which needs methods or materials of any kind.

Church Road to Be Widened.

Church road, from Cedar road to Cheltenham and Willow Grove turnpike, is to be widened and the traveling public will be delighted, because at some points the road is only 21 feet in width, It is devoid of sidewalks so that travel over it by pedestrians is extremely dangerous, because of the heavy auto traffic over it.

A jury of view, through Walter M. Shaw, reported to the court, approval of the petitioners to widen, which petitioners were represented by Attorney James Burnett Holland.

Church road is one of the oldest highways in this country or the eastern part of the state. It was laid out in 1734 and extended from Oxford Church, in Philadelphia, to St. Thomas' church, in Whitemarsh. It was supposedly to be thirty-three feet wide, but it is ten or twelve feet narrower at some points. As recommended by the jury the road will be forty feet wide from Ogontz ave to Old York road; and fifty feet wide from Mill road to Ogontz avenue.

A score of property owners, whose land is taken because of the widening are awarded, in the aggregate, about $10,000 as follows:

Alfred Tyson, Ogontz hotel property, $3000; William Hallowell, $25; Charles L. McLean, $5; A. H. Eyre, $50; Cornelius Sullivan, $75; Paul W. Longsdorf, $100; E. Clarence Miller, $1000; Mary A. Reed, $400; M. P. Horner, $150; Jane Thomson and Howard K. Taylor, $3000; Frederick Koeberle, $600; Robert Alexander estate, $400; William L. Pennington, $350; Louis Hihn, $275; John Knoll, $275; George Christianson, $275; Oscar E. Loftsrom, $550; Edward Maguinness estate, $50; May L. O'Regan, $50; Harry Williams, $75; Mary Saddington, $75; Jennie H. Dreydopple, $750, and Sarah W. Hughes, $500.

Mrs. Linda Harrod Endorses Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and tried everything I heard of but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness and pain in the stomach after eating. Since taking two bottles I can eat anything I want without distress" writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Ft. Wayne, Ind. jul

Declares Gulph Road Has not Been Sold

Members of the Valey Forge Park commission deny the sale of the historic Gulph road, over which the American Army marched to Valley Forge in the winter of 1777.

No sale is even contemplated it was declared, by John P. Nicholson, Gettysburg, president of the Commission. Colonel George J. Elliot another member, of Philadelphia, declared that so far as he knows there has been no sale.

Rev. Herbert W. Burk, president of the Valley Forge Historical Society, and rector of Washington Memorial chapel, first said the road had been sold. Upon the ground that it is an historical road, Mr. Burk has written to Governor Sproul to "defend this sacred heritage."

Gulph road runs south from Valley Forge for about seven miles, meeting in the vicinity of Bryn Mawr, Montgomery pike.

FORT WASHINGTON NEWS.

tems of Passing Interest, Condensed in Short Paragraphs.

Candidates for Deputy Constable Have Airing in Norristown—Baseball Carnival a Great Success—Extension of Fairmount Park—Miscellaneous.

A monster carnival will be held on the fire house grounds on July 30 in aid of the activities furthered by the Fort Washington Heights association, which for years has maintained sidewalks, lights, police protection and other improvements which have increased the safety and convenience of our residents. Booths, stands, tables, etc., will have things for sale and in addition the following awards will be made: Two lawn mowers, goods for clothing, and an electric lamp.

Henry Curtis, who for many years has been employed on the John Vansantn property, has resigned his position.

A very successful carnival, which netted the local athletic association some $200 was held Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings in the square in front of Gordon's hotel. Despite the heavy rain $46 worth of business was done on Friday evening.

One day last week Mrs. Walter E. Foulke, of Whitemarsh, motored to their camp in Maine.

J. Polon ha commenced the concrete foundations for a house on the west side of the pike south of this place.

William H. Taggart, who has been ill, is spending the present week in Atlantic City for his health.

The remains of Agnes Mary Hersh, widow of B. Franklin Hersh, were interred at Allentown, on July 14. B. Franklin Hersh was born at Fort Washington, his father William Hersh having built the Fort Washington hotel. Mrs. Hersh, is survived by two sons, four daughters, 16 grand-children and one sister, the latter a resident of Germany.

One day last week a motorist in turning around in front of the Gordon hotel, backed into one of the porch, posts nearly wrecking the corner of the porch roof.

That the extension of Fairmount park along Wissahickon creek to this place with plans to include the sites of the old camps and fort at Fort Washington and on Militia hill,, has not been relinguished is called to mind by an accident which happened last week, when a party of engineers gathering data for such plans were surveying along the Sandy Run creek at this plade. Having placed their transit in the turnpike the men were engaged in making other observations when a trolley car ran into the transit and upset the plans of the party for the time. The general proposition scenes to be to extend the park drive and general control from the city limits at Andorra nurseries, City line, along the Wissahickon creek to this point and make this end of the park sufficiently large to include the local Revolutionary war camp sites. The general movement, through the personal interest of State Senator Vare has had recognition by the state legislature, which several years ago appropriated a sum of money to make surveys and preliminary sketches of the proposed extension. While actual realization of the general scheme may be in the dim future, the plans are bound to win for two reasons. One is that the Revolutionary associations must be preserved and the other is that the extension of Fairmount park along the Wissahickon creek is a most natural expansion of the original idea consistent with the growth of the city and the preservation of the water course and the natural beauty thereof.

It looks as though there will be a contest in Upper Dublin nomination for township treasurer, as Walter Simmers, of Maple Glen, has announced his candidacy. It is presumed that the present incumbent, Thomas F. Shoemaker, will also be a candidate to succeed himself.

CENTRE SQUARE.

The annual picnic of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school will be held August 1st at Zeiber's park, West Point.

George Swartz, local harnessmaker, has installed a Bowers oil pump.

The state highway department has a force of men at work patching DeKalb Street pike from Germantown pike to Franklinville. It is rumored here that no concrete will be laid on this road for some time, and it is now planned, it is said, to rebuild ther oad the same as the Skippack pike.

There was quite a large number of guests at the Taylor farm boarding house over the week-end. This place is becoming quite popular among the better class of Hebrews of Philadelphia and distant points. At times the farm is unable to accommodate the applicants.

Station Agent Bonnel, who returned to duty several weeks ago after it was announced that he had been placed on the pension list by the Lehigh Valley Transit company, suffered a serious accident last Saturday at his boarding place in West Point. It is stated that he was found on the floor of his room by a member of the household where he boarded suffering from a fractured hip. He is now in the Montgomery hospital at Norristown, where he was removed shortly after he was discovered that he had met with an accident. Agent Bonnel is an aged man and his business at the local station was a responsible one, as he was called upon to guard the crossing when the limited cars passed over. However, during his recent return to duty, it is said that complaints had been made to the trolley company to the effect that at times the crossing was left unguarded, which gave the parents of children who were obliged to use the crossing as well as older people, much concern. A more efficient man has now been placed in charge of the work.

There is much complaint regarding the condition of the Morris road, north of Franklinville and extending as far as the Worcester township line. This is the portion recently taken over by Whitpain township in exchange for a portion of DeKalb Street pike. Some time ago it was stated that the road would be repaired, but up to this time nothing has been done.

In about a week local truckers will begin marketing sweet corn. Tomatoes are also ripening, but not in large quantities. There is ready sale for the ripe fruit.

The work of rebuilding the Skippack pike north of this place has been delayed on account of the large stone necessary for the work not bening received. The rebuilding has progressed as far as St. John's Lutheran church. South of this place the sweeper has been at work and a top dressing of oil has been applied.

Mrs. George Woodward and daughters are spending two weeks' visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bruner.

Mr. and Mrs. David Schwenk left on Thursday for an extended trip to the west. They will visit Trindad, Col.; Yellowstone National park, Salt Lake City, Aberdeen, S. D., and the Great Lakes.

Mrs. Fannie Morgan is spending a week at Fairview Village visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hall Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Mervine, of Philadelphia, are the guests of Miss Lillian Knoll for a week.

Boy From St. Thomas Episcopal Church Whitemarsh, Spends Fortnight at Camp Bonsall.

Robert Campman, of Ambler, has returned from Camp Bonsall at Dwight Farms, near Downingtown, Pa., where he spent the period from July 5th to 16th. He has had a unique opportunity during this time to profit by a new undertaking of the church, which is being carried on under the direction of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. The national headquarters in Philadelphia is conducting a series of four camps during the present summer, of which Camp Bonsall was one. The other three are Camp Houghteling, on Lake Amy Bell, Wis., open during the same period as Camp Bonsall; Camp Carleton at Angola, N. Y., on Lake Erie, and Camp Tuttle, in the Missouri Ozarks, near Elk Springs. The dates of the last two are July 25th to August 6th.

These camps represent the church's adaption of the Plattsburg idea. The programs are constructed to give intensive courses of training in boy leadership, together with an abundance of healthful sport and the type of open-air good time which every boy loves. The attendance is carefully chosen and each boy is picked for his promise of future ability as a leader. It was therefore quite an honor which came to this young fellow in being chosen for this special course of study.

Auto—Intoxication.

With the gasoline for horses,
Quite a merry joyous haul,
To the Menlo park resources,
Went the children of St. Paul.
Fair the day of picnic pleasure
For the young and old the same,
With the romp and fun full measure
Every gay and sportive game.

While they're busy with the boxes
And the eatables galore,
For the hungry little foxes,
Let me speak of days of yore.

Of the days of swings and bean bag
And the old style sawdust ball,
And the kissin' games and play'in tag,
And the round dance best of all.

Life is just the same, my dearie,
Filled with antimated love.
Youth goes forth with earnest query,
Age enjoys its treasure trove.

After all with merry singing
In the moon-lit evening cool,
Gasoline is homeward bringing
Happy St. Paul's Sunday school.

Hundreds of lodgemen from Philadelphia, the York road section, and many towns in Montgomery and Bucks counties, attended the dedication of the new $50,000 Odd Fellows' Hall, in Jenkintown, on July 15.

The new building, erected for the use of the Peace and Love Lodge, 337, I. O. O. F., is the largest and most complete Odd Fellows' headquarters in eastern Pennsylvania. Men high in circles of the fraternal order will be guests and will take part in the dedication ceremonial.

The program started at noon with a public reception and inspection of the property, at Summit avenue and Leedom street. Peace and Love Lodge, the Grand Lodge and Philadelphia Canton, No. 1, paraded. At three o'clock the dedication program was started, with Grand Master Alfred N. Dick, of Pittsburgh, presiding. A supper was served visiting lodgemen and their guests, and at night there were moving pictures and dancing.

Peace and Love Lodge now has more than 500 members, with accessions to the membership list each month. Earl Emerick, a Jenkintown business man, heads the Jenkintown branch of Odd Fellows as Noble Grand. The new Lodge Hall was finished some months ago, but the dedication was deferred until July 16, and half a score of committies have been active for several weeks to make the dedication a notable affair.
